

Just the Job Information Sheet

Job title

Butchery apprentice

Job description

Preparing and displaying meat for customers to buy

Qualifications required

No qualifications required, but English and Mathematics NCEA would help

General requirements

- prepared for early morning starts
- prepared for some weekend work
- enjoy working in a team environment
- enjoy practical hard work (including some medium level lifting)
- don't mind working in a chilled environment

Training costs

Dependent on training provider

Career path

Apprentice – Butcher – Manager – the world is your oyster
Store/Business owner, Slaughterman, Homekill, Butcher overseas

Salary range

Earn while you learn. After becoming qualified, a butcher earn from $35000-$45000 plus. There is no limitation to the range, as it depends on the type of work, and the person's capacity and capability.

How to increase the chances of successfully entering this industry

Get a CV together, and contact all Butcheries in your area. Show a hard working attitude, and willingness to get stuck in.

Other places to source information about this job

www.competenz.org.nz